

Biology Department workshops

A workshop on a project to transform house roofs into fruitful gardens using soilless and hydroponics farming systems

A workshop entitled: Mobile phone contamination with microorganisms

Workshop on direct and indirect methods for diagnosing parasites

Workshop on home pregnancy screening

Workshop on blood pressure

Latest topics

A study at the College of Education for Pure Sciences discusses evaluating the level of some immune, biochemical, and physiological indicators for some people with severe obesity.

A study at the College of Education for Pure Sciences discusses the effectiveness of soaking with antioxidants in seed germination and seedling growth of three- and four-carbon plants of the Poaceae family under saline conditions.

A study at the College of Education for Pure Sciences discusses the evaluation of histological and histochemical changes in the testicles and liver resulting from the effect of the pesticide Dilatec 5 in white rabbits.

A study at the College of Education for Pure Sciences discusses developing analytical methods to estimate drug compounds in pharmaceutical preparations.

The Dean of the College inspects the second round exams for postgraduate students

A study at the College of Education for Pure Sciences, University of Diyala discusses evaluating the CD19 level in tuberculosis patients using flow flow cytometry technology